

MANUFACTURING

Keep every plant connected, secure, and running on one managed network

Minutes of downtime cost more than most IT budgets

Manufacturing runs on connected machines, coordinated teams, and continuous production. When the network drops, the line stops. Most manufacturers manage more facilities, IoT endpoints, and supply chain complexity than ever, often across plants, warehouses, and remote sites held together by aging infrastructure and too many vendors.

Momentum brings network, voice, security, and engagement together into a single managed service for distributed industrial operations. Whether you run a single plant or a global manufacturing network, the model stays the same.

Why Momentum?

Industrial expertise

Designed around OT/IT segmentation, regulated workloads, and distributed plant operations with named resources on every engagement.

One end-to-end partner

Network, voice, security, and engagement managed by one team, so IT and operations can focus on production instead of coordinating vendors.

Proven across global operations

Momentum connects and manages 36,000+ enterprise locations, including single-plant operations to global manufacturing networks.

HIGHLIGHTS

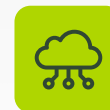

Protect production uptime: Resilient networks with failover and wireless backup keep plants, warehouses, and production lines online.

Low-latency performance for automation: Network infrastructure that supports IoT, robotics, and real-time monitoring without bottlenecks.

Connected supply chains: Voice, messaging, and contact center connect facilities, partners, and customers on one platform.

Segment OT, IT, and IoT at every site: Managed SD-WAN isolates industrial control systems from corporate and guest traffic.

One managed partner: Network, voice, security, and engagement all managed by a single partner.

One partner for connectivity, communication, engagement, and security

Keep production lines moving and eliminate vendor sprawl with one managed provider for everything.

Communication that moves as fast as production

Communication that supports the supply chain

Every facility on one network
High-speed global connectivity links plants, warehouses, and offices into a single resilient backbone with full visibility.

Coverage where fiber doesn't reach
5G fixed wireless extends connectivity to remote facilities, outdoor production areas, and new sites.

Maintain critical app performance
Low-latency routing keeps ERP, automation, and monitoring systems on schedule.

Segment OT, IT, and IoT everywhere
Managed SD-WAN from Cisco Meraki, Juniper, or Arista isolates industrial control systems from corporate traffic.

Zero Trust for engineers and managers
Cato SASE replaces legacy VPN with identity-based access to plant systems from any location.

Encrypted voice and GCC High
Protect sensitive engineering conversations and meet defense contractor compliance.

Connect plants, warehouses, and offices
Teams Phone and SIP trunking link every facility under a single voice and collaboration environment.

Faster safety and coordination on the floor
Real-time voice and messaging instantly connect field crews, supervisors, and engineers from anywhere.

Full visibility across sites
Always-on connectivity and remote diagnostics let IT monitor, troubleshoot, and respond.

Coordinate across the supply chain:
A unified Microsoft Teams contact center streamlines workflows with distributors, suppliers, and customers.

Traceable records for compliance and audits
Call recording and analytics create searchable logs of every vendor and customer interaction.

Maintain real-time visibility
Attendant console and messaging tools keep operators and coordinators informed during production changes.

One partner to connect, secure, and manage every plant and facility

Stop losing production time to network outages, vendor sprawl, and disconnected sites. Talk to an expert today.
